

Caterpillar to Butterfly: A Way to Yourself: Introduction to practical self-investigation

The essence of the game of this world, the world we entered as material (physical) beings, is separation. At the time of our birth, we accept a certain condition, which can be expressed by the word separation. In other words, we choose to forget who we really are. That is the origin of all our difficult states and problems. We forgot the Source. The majority of people forget who they are, where their real Home is, what they came here for. They feel lonely, they pity themselves, and they don't understand what's going on. In reality, those are the rules of the game played here. This is not an accident, but the specifics of the game chosen by your Soul. The rules, the mechanisms, and the meaning of this game are the topic of this book.
