

vegetarianism against carnism: A fight for the abolition of animals slavery A fight for your health and the planets

Many renowned men and women have denounced the intolerable domination of men upon animals. It goes from Antiquity to date, they are Pythagoras, Socrate, Leonardo da Vinci, J.J Rousseau, Voltaire, Victor Hugo, Tolstoi, Einstein, Gandhi and many more, all were vegetarians and pacifists. According to the author a cultural revolution is, without a doubt, going on. And soon, this actual denial will be forgotten and we will acknowledge our barbarism. Were moving slowly (too slowly!) towards the animals slavery abolition. It is estimated that within 50 years time, our way of feeding will appear to be completely absurd to the advanced knowledge in health. Meat eaters point of view about these great animal proteins wont be a valid excuse anymore and unnecessary meat consumption will be banned from our plates for good. Meat-based food is a taboo subject, it can go from disapproval to aggressivity towards those who choose not to eat meat anymore. The writer denounces this veggies phobia and puts forwards the benefits of an healthy vegetarian feeding. Humanity has gone too far by consuming toxic and useless products and we can only be revolted by this rearing animals s imposed suffering. But we have to keep positive, we must react and resist from this feeding imperialism that we are all victims of. Lets keep a straight face and lets ask ourselves why a society organizes itself and takes so much action to stop a move asserting the health and the well-being of living creatures.
